

Gateway Education Course- GE1230

- Title: Driving ESG Excellence: Sustainable Leadership and Governance in Energy and Environmental Industries
 - School of Energy and Environment (E2)
 - One Semester | 3 Credit Units
- Course Objectives:
 - Explore corporate governance, ethics, and organizational culture in the energy and environmental industries.
 - Assess the roles of C-Suite executives in advancing sustainability and ESG initiatives.
 - Differentiate between leadership and management in innovative settings.
 - Address governance and ethical challenges by proposing practical, sustainable solutions.

Key Features of the Course

- Real-world case studies from sustainable businesses in the energy sector.
- Guest speakers from senior leadership roles in the energy and environmental industries.
- Interdisciplinary approach combining governance, ethics, leadership, and innovation.
- Group projects fostering teamwork, problem-solving, and innovation.
- Alignment with the Hong Kong Climate Action Plan 2050 and global ESG standards.

Renewable Energy Systems

professional boardroom setting with diverse executives

urban environment with green infrastructure