Part II Course Details

1. Abstract

This course aims to provide opportunities for students to engage in competitive mooting competitions with other universities and institutions both within Hong Kong and outside Hong Kong. The focus will be upon synthesizing the knowledge and skills already acquired on substantive law courses and to apply that knowledge and skills in a courtroom context. The course aims to develop research, analytical, organisational and advocacy skills by confronting students with complex issues of both fact and law in a courtroom situation. Within the structured setting provided by the course students can prepare for, and participate in, such international mooting competitions as the Philip C. Jessup International law Moot, the Willem C. Vis Commercial Arbitration Moot, the Red Cross International Humanitarian law Moot, the Manfred Lachs International Space Law Moot, Human Rights Law Moots, Foreign Direct Investment Moot, WTO Law Moots, the International Maritime Law Arbitration Moot and other moots in which the School participates.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

(CILOs state what the student is expected to be able to do at the end of the course according to a given standard of performance.)

- A1: Attitude: Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.
- A2: Ability: Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to self-life problems.
- A3: Accomplishments: Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

Alignment of CILOs with PILOs:

Programme Intended Learning Outcomes (PILOs)
1	Explain and assess specified areas of the law and the legal system of Hong Kong, with particular emphasis on the law in action and the dynamic interplay between law and other social phenomena.
2	Assess the common law system and its values, and its interaction with the law and legal system of mainland China, the East Asian region and the wider world.
3	Explain, interpret and apply main principles of ethics, civil duty, and social and professional responsibility.	1,6,8
4	Critically assess the strengths and weaknesses of law as a means of regulating society in the context of competing and conflicting interests.	3,4,5,6,8
5	Demonstrate and apply skills of legal analysis and reasoning, of legal research, or problem solving, and of oral and written communication to a level appropriate to a graduate-entry degree in law.	2,4,5,6,8

3. Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

(TLAs designed to facilitate students' achievement of the CILOs.)

Contact hours will be divided between lectures, tutorials and such other inter-active and integrated teaching exercises as shall be deemed appropriate for the particular mooting competition. A number of teaching staff will be engaged depending upon the expertise required for participation in particular mooting competitions. In view of such variations, the following list of TLAs is indicative and some of them may not be adopted in some sections. The combination and duration of the TLAs will be determined by the needs of the particular mooting competition. The concentration will be upon understanding the mooting problem posed by the particular moot and upon small group activities in which legal, policy, institutional and regulatory issues relating to the particular moot problem will be discussed and developed. Practical exercises will introduce students to, and improve, their performance in, all aspects of mooting and in particular address working both as a team and as individuals to carry out defined responsibilities and objectives. As the participation of students is compulsory in the moot for which they are selected, it is expected that they will acquire advanced analytical and oratory skills, presentation skills, question and answer technique, time management and other skills that are crucial for mooting.

4. Assessment Tasks/Activities (ATs)

(ATs are designed to assess how well the students achieve the CILOs.)

There is no examination: the course is totally assessed by coursework. For the reasons already stated at the beginning of section 3, the following list of assessment tasks (ATs) is indicative only. The combination and weighting of the ATs in each section will be determined by the particular instructor/coach according to the demand of the particular mooting competition in which the students is enrolled. Full details of the assessment approach will be provided at the outset of the course. Students may opt to be assessed upon their performance in the particular mooting competition in which they are enrolled whether this is an internal round within City University or an external round. Students who progress beyond the first round of the competition upon which they are enrolled may designate the round of the competition upon which they wish to be assessed for this purpose.

The coursework assessment may take one or more of the following forms:

Participation in a mooting competition, which is compulsory, will be used as the coursework assessment. The performance in such competitions (whether an internal round within City University or an external round) may be assessed in lieu of any other coursework. Students who progress beyond the first round of any such competition (whether internal or external) may designate the round of the competition upon which they wish to be assessed for this purpose.

The portion of the overall mark allocated to performance/participation in inter-active in class activities will be assessed on the quality of the participation. Assessment criteria for those activities, their nature and their timing will be set out in the study guide/course manual and will be further expanded upon by the course leader and by instructors assigned to that particular mooting competition.
