Part II Course Details

1. Abstract

This course aims to provide students with a holistic understanding of and a practical implication of urban design by focusing on local issues in urban design and planning in Hong Kong. This studio offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach to urban design. The course aims to provide students with new disciplinary tools for the analysis of current Hong Kong territorial developments and for the proposal of the most advanced urban design strategies aiming at the comprehensive improvement of the local built environment. The project dealt with both regional planning and urban design scales and the course integrate relevant knowledge of urban economics and regional planning as well as green buildings and architecture.

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

(CILOs state what the student is expected to be able to do at the end of the course according to a given standard of performance.)

No.	CILOs	Weighting (if applicable)	Discovery-enriched curriculum related learning outcomes (please tick where appropriate)
			A1	A2	A3
1.	identify contextual issues in a project region considering emerging topics of urban design and planning in Hong Kong		✓	✓
2.	combine alternative approaches from different disciplinary fields into an integrated urban design approach: formulate design concepts and scenarios by proposing new strategies of urban design and planning in Hong Kong		✓	✓	✓
3.	design an urban design project focusing on new development of urban places in Hong Kong		✓	✓	✓
4.	prepare professional presentation and documentation of an urban design proposal for proposing a new region in Hong Kong			✓	✓

Assignments	Attitude to challenge conventional strategies in urban design Ability to develop design skills Accomplishment to demonstrate design alternatives	Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization, capacity to analyse and synthesize; superior grasp of subject matter evidence of extensive knowledge base	Evidence of grasp of subject, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of issues; evidence of familiarity with literature.	Student who is profiting from the university experience; understanding of the subject; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material	Sufficient familiarity with the subject matter to enable the student to progress without repeating the course.	Little evidence of familiarity with the subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited, or irrelevant use of literature.
