Part II Course Details

1. Abstract

This course aims to provide students with the requisite knowledge of and practice in all the requirements for the writing of a final, reasoned and enforceable arbitration award in a commercial dispute. It will also enhance the student's ability to carry out independent research and acquire knowledge through self-study.

LW6409B Advanced Award Writing is a Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (CI Arb) recognized course. In order to meet the requirements of the CI Arb, students must obtain a minimum mark of 70% in the assessment (the final exam), which will be by a written report (i.e. a Final Arbitral Award).

2. Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

(CILOs state what the student is expected to be able to do at the end of the course according to a given standard of performance.)

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to self-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

3. Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

Remarks:

For Continuous Assessment Weighting ≤ 30%

In order to assess students' course performance in a holistic and fair manner, for SLW courses, including Gateway Education course and servicing courses, with a Continuous Assessment (CA) component that is equal to or less than 30%, the pass mark requirement for the CA component would be waived, i.e. students will only need to reach the pass marks for the final exam AND the overall mark in order to pass the course, with effect from Semester B 2021/22, applicable to all intakes. For courses with a CA component that is above 30%, no change should be applied to the current practice.

* Notes:

Applicable to students admitted in Semester A 2022/23 and thereafter

In order to pass this course, students must:

1. gain 100% attendance.
2. obtain minimum mark of 50% in the written assessment and a minimum mark of 50% in the examination.
3. Students should ensure that they have access in class to a laptop computer so that they can complete the various in-class exercises and assessments.

Applicable to students admitted before Semester A 2022/23

In order to pass this course, students must:

1. gain 100% attendance.
2. obtain minimum mark of 40% in the written assessment and a minimum mark of 40% in the examination.
3. Students should ensure that they have access in class to a laptop computer so that they can complete the various in-class exercises and assessments.

Students will be sent a reading list as well as a set of reading materials focusing on arbitration awards, their characteristics, functions and drafting. Students are required to write a reflective journal recording their learning experiences in the first eight weeks, and to submit a coursework assignment. Towards the end of the semester, there are face-to-face tutorials which help students develop their legal analysis and drafting skills.

At the face-to-face tutorial students will be given the first set of materials relating to an arbitration case; these will normally cover all information but the hearing. Students will be required to start working on the awards by drafting summary of facts, summary of parties' positions, claims, etc. After the face-to-face tutorials students will sit in a four hour open book examination (the final exam). In the final exam, students will be given a second set of materials (typically the information relating to the hearing) and they will have four hours to complete their awards. Awards should be presented in a format that it is suitable for international arbitration award under Hong Kong Arbitration Ordinance. Relevant instructions will be conveyed by the way of self-study, reading and face-to-face tutorial seminar.
