Part II Course Details

Abstract

This course aims to provide students with an understanding and appreciation of the main features of the Criminal Justice system in Hong Kong; its mode of operation, the interaction between its principal agents, institutions and practices, and the theoretical foundations underpinning those bodies and processes. This course will not only deal with the mechanical 'how' about the manner in which various Criminal Justice practices are conducted, but also with the philosophical and moral 'why' it should or should not continue to be conducted in a particular manner. To this end, the Criminal Justice practices in the pre-trial, trial and post-trial stages of the Hong Kong Criminal Justice System will be considered and juxtaposed with Criminal Justice practices from past time periods and cultures, as well as contemporary practices in other jurisdictions. This is necessary because it is only once we know and understand the origins and development of the various mechanisms, stakeholders and institutions of our own Criminal Justice system, and are able to reflect on the similarities and differences it has with Criminal Justice Systems of other jurisdictions, that we can critically evaluate and comment on its efficiency, reliability, and scope for improvement. The course takes a Discovery Enriched Curriculum to the assignment in the course, requiring students to write a reflective 3000 word assignment on visits in criminal matters to a Magistrates Court, the District Court, the Court of First Instance and the Court of Appeal or the Court of Final Appeal.. In particular, students will be asked a question as to how, after examining the different court procedures, the criminal justice system can be improved in this area.

Evidence of grasp of the subject, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of issues, evidence of knowledge base

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Student is profiting from the university experience; understanding of subject; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material

Marginal (D)

Sufficient familiarity with the subject matter, weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited or irrelevant use of literature

Failure (F)

Little evidence of familiarity with the subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited or irrelevant use of literature

Assessment Task

3. Written Assignment (30 marks)

Criterion

Students need to obtain a minimum 30%

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization, capacity to analyze and synthesize, superior grasp of subject matter; evidence of extensive knowledge base

Good (B+, B, B-)

Evidence of grasp of the subject, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of issues, evidence of knowledge base

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Student is profiting from the university experience; understanding of subject; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material

Marginal (D)

Sufficient familiarity with the subject matter, weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited or irrelevant use of literature

Failure (F)

Little evidence of familiarity with the subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited or irrelevant use of literature

Assessment Task

4. In-class test (45 marks)

Criterion

Students need to obtain a minimum 30%

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization, capacity to analyze and synthesize, superior grasp of subject matter; evidence of extensive knowledge base and literature in relation to the test questions

Good (B+, B, B-)

Evidence of grasp of the subject, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of issues in relation to the test questions

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Student is profiting from the university experience; understanding of subject; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in relation to the test questions.

Marginal (D)

Sufficient familiarity with the subject matter, weakness in critical and analytic skills in relation to the test questions.
